

1. OSG (Office of Strategy and Growth) About the Branch Office of Strategy and Growth is the Driving Force that transforms K-1000's vision into measurable results. As the core unit overseeing key organizational functions, we manage operations, coordinate major projects, and ensure consistent excellence across all initiatives. Acting as the central link between teams, we translate strategic goals into actionable outcomes.
2. OTI (Office of Technology and Innovation) About the Branch The Office of Technology and Innovation is the hub for Technical Finance and Development, the pivotal point where cash and technology intersect. OTI makes strategic use of funds for both central and collaborative projects to achieve maximum technical effect. We offer practical exposure during all stages of projects, from development through debugging and system upgrades.
3. OCD (Office of Creativity and Design) About the Branch Office of Creativity and Design is the Creative Architect of the K-1000 brand. OCD is the central visual unit, responsible for managing all aesthetic standards, visual identity, and design activities across every digital and physical platform. Our mission is to ensure K-1000's message is not just seen, but felt.
4. OPCR (Office of Public and Corporate Relations) About the Branch OPCR is the organization's primary external interface, responsible for securing high-value sponsorships and strategically enriching the K-1000 alumni network. The team acts as the architects of K-1000's external reputation and financial support system.
5. OCA (Office of Campus Ambassadors) About the Branch Campus Ambassadors are the Frontline Evangelists for K-1000, responsible for generating enthusiasm and organizational awareness in schools across the entire region. This role provides essential training in high-impact communication and grassroots relationship management.
6. OCC (Office of Content & Communication)

About the Branch The Office of Communication & Content is the central communication and documentation hub of K-1000. It is responsible for maintaining the voice, tone, and consistency of all official communications. The branch manages documentation, MoUs, event agendas, result reports, social media content, and formal correspondence, while ensuring that all communication aligns with K-1000's objectives and standards.